Chris Brown,
Research Editor,
CBOT Newsroom,
Ottawa.

Dear Chris:

I'm happy to provide you with a letter of reference and to discuss your work with anyone you refer to me.

In the 2½ years we've been working together, I've found you to be bright, well-organized and extremely hard-working. As a researcher and reporter, you've shown initiative, great energy and consistent cheerfulness under all pressures.

What I've particularly appreciated about you is your commitment and sincerity, and your bulldog tenacity in tracking down people and information. You also have a gift of insight into people and organization. Certainly you've given me insights about groups that have helped me in running this newsroom. I've welcomed the frank discussions we've had and your open-ness with me.

I'm pleased to recommend you as a man with ideas, enthusiasm and the potential for leadership.

Good luck.
